WHAT'S HAPPENING AT HEALTH ISSUES CENTRE

Participate in Health Conference- My Story Matters 21-22 September 2009 Melbourne

Victoria University, City Campus
300 Flinders Street, Melbourne

On behalf of the Victorian Department of Health and the Participation Advisory Committee on consumer, carer and community participation in health, we would we would like to thank you for your participation and contribution to such a successful event. The Conference was held from 21-22 September 2009 at Victoria University, City Campus.

The event was a huge success with over 150 delegates registered. An exceptional program was developed covering a wide range of themes from patient safety, consumer participation, health reform and quality improvement. We hope you enjoyed the many highlights of the Conference, including the compelling presentations from speakers such Fran Baum and Beth Wilson as well as the interactive workshops, speakers market and entertainment

A selection of presentations from the conference will be available shortly

New Project

Review of the Melbourne East General Practice Network's Consumer Engagement Strategy

The review will involve the assessment of written reports and documents produced within the context of the implementation of the Strategy, and approximately five face-to-face interviews with staff, Board members and stakeholders (GP and practice staff and others). The final report will include a series of recommendations, emerging from the review, to enhance the engagement strategy in the future.

JOURNAL NEWS

Health Issues #99... and Beyond!

Health Issues #99 on climate change and health is now available to members and subscribers and will be included in Informit once the Health Issues Centre- Informit arrangements are finalised.

Health Issues #100, celebrating consumer participation past and future, is at final production stages and promises to be a great Issue. It includes articles from a variety of writers, including long term friends of Health Issues Centre and well know consumers. This Issue also has lots of cartoons from our well known cartoonists, Bev Aisbet and Simon Kneebone. Bev and Simon also collaborated in this Issue by sending us their own reflections - an cartoons - of being a cartoonist for Health Issues for more than 20 years.

Health Issues #101 will be on human rights and health, Issue #102 will be on the rural consumer journey to access health services and Health Issues #103 will be on dental health issues.

Become a member or subscribe to Health Issues and you will receive hard copies of the Journal! For further information go to <http://www.hic.infoxchange.net.au/membership/> or contact Souzi Markos on 9479 5827 or email s.markos@healthissuescentre.org.au

EVENTS OF INTEREST

Workshop: Involving Consumers on Committees: 27 October 2009

Most health service committees are dominated by health professionals. Involving consumers on committees in your health service will bring new ideas from critical stakeholders to the table and assist in developing ongoing dialogue between consumers and health professionals. At the end of this session participants will be able to:

- Define Consumer Participation
- Identify strategies to involve consumers in their organisations
- Implement strategies to recruit and support consumers
- Develop policies to support consumer participation for their organisation

Carers National Data Repository Scoping Study Final Report

The Department of Health and Ageing (DoHA) commissioned the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare (AIHW) to undertake this study to investigate and document the scope, feasibility and utility of setting up a Carers National Data Repository (CNDR). The CNDR is conceived as a way of improving the evidence available about carers using existing data which would mitigate issues arising from scattered evidence by bringing data together, standardising metadata and analysing data in more integrated ways (including through the use of data linkage) to inform important policy and research issues. This is an internet only publication, so click on the link to view the Final Report (AIHW catalogue number: AGE 59).

DO YOU WANT TO BE INVOLVED?

Type 2 Diabetes, Cardiovascular Disease and Complementary Therapies

If you have been diagnosed with Type 2 diabetes or cardiovascular disease (including high blood pressure, controlled by medication) for more than 12 months, you may be eligible to contribute to a study on the self-management of chronic conditions and the use of complementary and alternative medicine (CAM) therapies. The study, underway at Monash University, seeks to better understand both the perspectives and needs of people with these conditions.

Do You Use Physiotherapy Services or Chiropractic Services?

Would you like to be involved in a symposium for the development of good practice evidence based models for physiotherapists and chiropractors? The Monash Institute of Health Services Research is looking for consumers who would be happy to record their stories of using physiotherapy services or chiropractic services. These stories will then be presented to allied health professionals in the form of a podcast as part of symposium to be held in 2010.

Enabling Consumers, Carers and Community Members to have their say- National Health and Hospitals Reform Commission Report

The Commonwealth government is planning a major reform of the Australian health system. The Prime Minister and Minister for Health have been visiting hospitals around Australia to consult on the 123 recommendations in the National Health and Hospitals Reform Commission Report.

As a consumer health organisation we believe that the government needs a number of consultation mechanisms with a number of different groups to ensure that they capture the diverse views of consumers, carers and community members.

We would like to provide feedback to the Federal Government from a consumer perspective. Please take a few minutes to provide your perspective on a number of key recommendations.

This survey should take between 15-20 minutes to complete. This survey will close on Friday 16 October 2009. If you would like a hard copy of this survey please call Assunta Morrone 03 9479 3520
